Vistelar is partnering with IACLEA to enable 12 IACLEA members to license Vistelar’s non-escalation, de-escalation, and crisis intervention curriculum and get up to three instructors authorized to teach this curriculum at a special “pilot program” price.

The content license element of this program provides the IACLEA member with a non-exclusive license to Vistelar’s intellectual property with the defined territory of the college and university (all school staff and students, including public safety).

With this license in place, the IACLEA member can develop instructors, train staff, reproduce printed materials, customize courseware, and create online programs –for the duration of the license. This flexibility enables the IACLEA member to modify the licensed content to optimally fit their historical practices, culture, policies and procedures, defined rules of engagement, and unique environments/applications – as long as the content’s fidelity isn’t compromised.

For example, participants would be able to use Vistelar’s curriculum to:

- Authorize their own instructors
- Develop customized workshops for different audiences
- Develop customized online courses for different audiences
- Print workbooks from a digital file provided as part of the license

The training element of this program includes train-the-trainer training for up to three staff of the IACLEA member. This four-day instructor school will occur on November 19-22, 2019 and will be hosted by UC Berkeley Police Department in Berkeley, CA.

The one-time investment for this entire program is $9,000!
